

Our preferred candidate is a man whose love for God is manifest in a vibrant personal walk with the Lord, devotion to His Word, and a genuine love for people. He should have a heart for the church, as well as a heart to reach the world for Christ. He should be excited about helping us pass on biblical truths to the next generation. We desire a pastor who effectively communicates the Word and whose gifting and calling have been affirmed by those who know him well.

We are seeking a candidate who will thrive in a rural environment. A family that enjoys the outdoors will find plenty to love in our region, including hunting, fishing, hiking, skiing, and more. Contentment and joy in small town living, plus a little grit to get through what are sometimes long winters, will be necessary for our next pastor's family to enjoy serving here. We are praying that our next pastor will have a long tenure of service at CMC.

It is important that our pastor's wife shares his heart for ministry and is fully supportive of her husband's call to the pastorate. We want our pastor and wife to be able to relate well to and build rapport within the church and broader community alike. We desire that our pastor, along with the rest of our fellowship, are seen as lights within the community and as people of truth and compassion.

We seek a leader who will recognize and capitalize on our strengths and shepherd us through our weaknesses. We are praying for a spiritually mature leader who will strive to work in unison with the elders and deacons as we seek to advance the Kingdom of God in Conrad and beyond.
